INTERVIEWER:: Read the following text.

This survey is a continuation of the Generations and Gender Survey in which you participated three years ago. It is part of an international programme co-ordinated by the UN Economic Commission for Europe. An interesting feature of our research is that it tries to follow the lives of people over a long period of time.

The aim of this research is to learn more about the everyday life, circumstances, and opinions of people and families. We want to gather information about the factors that influence the formation of new families, childbearing and preparation for old age. We also want to gather information about the lives of the young, middle-aged and old generations. This survey will show how people's life and family circumstances have changed over time, which will improve understanding of impediments of family life and relations of generations and help to develop policies for the future.

Each person's answer is very important to us, because each person who was visited and questioned represents a particular group of our society. Therefore, although they were randomly selected, the participants of this survey proportionally represent all of the inhabitants of this country. That is why it is important to question the same people again this time.

We will hold the information you give us in the strictest confidence, and use it only for statistical processing. If possible, it would be better if we could have this interview without others being present.

INTERVIEWER:: Write who else is present when the interview starts.
